KANO COMPUTER CLASS

Let's build a computer! In this hands on learning experience we'll build a laptop computer from scratch. Once we've created a new computer, piece by piece, each participant will learn coding in a fun game based approach.

From Minecraft to design to games we'll cover it all!

LEGO ROBOTICS

Lego Robotics looks to give an opportunity to kids who aren't into sports but are into building anything with their imagination. There are two different groups:

Junior Engineers (Grades 1 - 3)

Senior Engineers (Grades 4 - 8)

Each team receives a kit and an adult volunteer coach.

Juniors have a more simple kit and receive Lego pieces to build different objects and structures from the guide given. Then they will learn to work on the programming aspect. For example, they could build a car and could program the Lego car to make a sound like a car engine starting.

For our Senior group, they use a more complex kit with the help of a guide for the coach. Senior Engineers will be doing lots of building and programming, such as making a vehicle move forward, backwards, sideways, etc. The group will also decide what competitions to compete in and begin building the robot for competition(s).

Both Junior and Senior teams will compete in Saco, ME at the end of program season to show off what they have learned.

KIN-GINEERS

Kin-Gineers is for our young engineers, age 4 thru 6. We want to prepare them for our Lego Robotics program. With the Kin-Gineers program, the kids work with Lego pieces and use their imagination to build anything that comes to mind. Each week brings a new theme or challenge for the kids to work on building. Themes can be anything from building your own futuristic vehicle, a pyramid or a rocket ship. When it comes to challenges, kids could be asked to make their tallest tower with the tower having a width requirement or they could be challenged to make a structure that can hold a certain amount of weight without breaking.
